Hurricane Preparations? Check!

Hurricane Ian is intensifying in the Gulf of Mexico. The picture above is the official forecast as of 5 PM Tuesday. The storm has passed Cuba and now - unfortunately - our stretch of Florida's Southwest coast is clearly in its path.

The Town of Fort Myers Beach issued an evacuation notice this morning, so all our guests have left.

The staff began working through our detailed Hurricane Preparation checklist days ago and finished up around Noon today.

A new sanctuary for flowering plants

Protect the elevator room!

Now ALL of us who love Marina Village are safely waiting and watching... and wondering what impact Hurricane Ian will have..

Paul Rosen and I are traveling to Marina Village on Sunday to assist with whatever is needed to get us back up and running. We will reach out to you as soon as we get there!

Warm regards,
Lauren Dillard, CAM
